Pupils Learning To Typewrite

Typewriting classes at Coleman school are under the instruction of Mr. John McDonald. The trustees recently sanctioned the purchase of sixteen machines, from Remington-Rand Limited. Long tables of convenient height are used for instruction, and the keys on all machines are blank, so that pupils have to learn to typewrite by the touch system, and not by looking for the letters on the keys. Good progress is being made, and some efficient and speedy typists will be developed.

The machines for the classes were purchased through the Lethbridge offices of Remington-Rand, Ltd., for which The Journal office is the Pass representative.

Coleman Won Kootenay League

Playing the last league game, of the season, Canadians gained a 4-3 win over Kimberley Dynamiters at the arena here on Saturday night. It was Canadians first win over Kimberley this season. 1000 fans saw a clean rugged game, in which there were no penalties.

Joyce sparked the local team with two goals and an assist. Lopichuk and Jemson scored the other Coleman goals. Redding, who leads the league in scoring points, accounted for two Kimberley goals, Botterill getting the third. Two assists were secured by Bill Fraser, while Ainsworth and Jim Fraser were credited with one assist each.

Coleman led 2-0 in the first period on goals by Joyce and Lopichuk. Redding scored in the second period for Kimberley to decrease Coleman's lead. Joyce again scored to give Coleman a two goal lead. In the third period Botterill scored Kimberley's second goal. Jemson won the point back on a goal assisted by J. Fraser. With two minutes to go, Redding scored Kimberley's third and last goal, the final score being 4-3 in Coleman's favor.

While Coleman were taking the measure of Kimberley, Trail were eking out a 6-4 decision over Nelson, which enabled Coleman to take over sole possession of fourth place in the league standing, being one point ahead of Nelson Maple Leafs. Final league standing was:

	P.	W.	L.	T.	F.	A.	Pts.
Trail	24	19	5	0	145	62	38
Kimberley	24	14	8	2	131	101	30
Lethbridge	24	13	11	0	108	97	26
Coleman	24	9	12	3	75	100	21
Nelson	24	8	12	4	85	90	20
Rossland	24	4	19	1	80	174	9

Interest has been exceptionally keen all winter in the individual scoring averages, and local interest never dulled in the local players' standings. Here is how they finished: Bill Fraser heads the Coleman marksmen with 26 points, with 11 goals and 15 assists. Joyce is one point back with 25 points, having 14 goals and 11 assists. Jenkins is next with 23 points. Lopichuk and Ainsworth are tied with 21 points. Jemson has 12 points. Hill spent 50 minutes in the penalty box and has no goals or assists credited to him. He is second to Bill Burnett, of Kimberley, as "bad man" of the league.

Evan Morgan, formerly of the Beverley Coal Co., Edmonton, has been appointed district mines inspector, succeeding D. Young.

Mr. Clark is a graduate in mining engineering of Alberta University, and was for some time employed with local companies here, prior to taking the management of Mohawk Bituminous Mines.

Coleman Canadians Not In The Play-Offs

Canadians are definitely out as far as play-offs are concerned this season. Neither the B.C. or Alberta hockey officials will discuss the question with the local executive.

In a telephone conversation Monday evening, President McDonald of the B.C.A.H.A. stated that certain agreements were made at the beginning of the season and they would have to be adhered to. Coleman, he stated, had been given one chance at the Allan Cup and had failed; they were not to be given a second chance.

The friendship between the two provincial bodies has been cemented in the form of a cheque from the B.C. association to the Alberta association. This money was to make up part of the loss suffered by Alberta association when they could not collect the 3% association fees from all teams playing in Alberta by Coleman and Lethbridge.

Kootenay hockey teams are in the midst of the play-offs. On Tuesday night Lethbridge took Kimberley into three over-time periods before dropping a 7-5 decision to the Dynamiters at Kimberley. Nelson dropped a close 1-0 decision to Trail. On Thursday evening (tonight) Lethbridge Maple Leafs and Dynamiters will clash at Lethbridge with Leafs favored to even the series. Nelson will travel to Trail, where it is expected the Smoke Eaters will gain their second straight victory and step into the finals against the winner of Leafs-Dynamiters series.

EVERY FIFTH WORKER HAS JOB IN TEXTILES

More than 21 per cent of all industrial workers have jobs with the textiles, which counts for over 13 per cent of the Dominion's net manufacturing production.

A relief application was accepted and ordered sent to the Bureau of Relief for approval.

Applications For Electrical Inspector

Antrobus is chairman, and Councillors Chapman and Atkinson, members. Address applications in writing to the office of the secretary-treasurer, TOWN OF COLEMAN.

"DON'T HAVE TO" MERCHANT DOESN'T GO VERY FAR

The bird who says "I don't have to advertise because everyone knows who I am, where I am, and what I sell," will never make any more than a living. The average shopper does not care who a merchant is, where he is or what he sells. But he does care about information as to how of what he wants without wasting steps. So, advertise. ## Wm. Fraser Re-Elected School Board Chairman

Improvements Will Include Stone Wall Around High School and Remodelling Former Caretaker's Dwelling

An organization meeting of the school board was held in the Board room on Tuesday evening. Present were Trustees Fraser, Fleming, Sharp, Greenhalgh and Chamberlain.

Wm. Fraser was re-elected chairman and Miss Gladys Lees secretary in the absence of James Ford, at present on three months leave of absence.

Trustees Fleming and Sharp were appointed Works and Property committee. Trustees Fraser, Greenhalgh and Chamberlain were appointed management committee.

Two delegates from the high school executive, Jim Allan and Joe Zezula, were present to solicit use of the auditorium for a dance Friday evening. Purpose of the dance is to raise funds to purchase curtains for the auditorium. The board gave their sanction only because the students were trying to raise funds for curtains. They asked and received the names of the school executive and the latter will be held responsible for any damage which may result. The board is not enthusiastic about allowing dances in the auditorium as it was not built for this purpose.

The delegates were told that if any damage resulted, no further requests would be considered. Considerable discussion regarding renovation of the vacant janitor's house was made. It was finally decided to renovate the house on plans submitted by Contractor D'Appollonia at an estimated cost of $1750. Among the improvements will be additional rooms, bathroom, basement, furnace, new floors in all rooms and new partitions, etc. Principal Hoyle has made verbal agreement to rent the building at $25.00 per month.

Discussion arose concerning the type of wall to be placed around the high school grounds. Contractor J. S. D'Appollonia has stated there would be very little difference in cost between a concrete wall approximately three feet high and a wall similar to that surrounding the town hall. Since a wall has to be built, it was suggested that the board ask the town council for a piece of land in front of the high school stretching the entire length of the school grounds. This would absorb the present sidewalk but, it was stated, the building would look more imposing standing back a few feet from the wall. Trustees Fraser and Chamberlain will be present at the next council meeting to present their request.

Regular meetings will be held the first Tuesday of each month.

Foreign Secretary Eden Resigns Over Break In Foreign Policy

London.—Foreign Secretary Eden resigned from the cabinet Sunday, taking with him Viscount Cranborne, the principal foreign under-secretary, in a dramatic break with Prime Minister Chamberlain on foreign policy.

Eden was unable to agree with his colleagues that the "present moment is appropriate for the commencement of Anglo-Italian negotiations."

As the resignations were accepted reports were heard Great Britain was preparing to recognize the Italian conquest of Ethiopia.

The resignation of Mr. Eden, who has opposed any concessions to Europe's dictators, was announced officially after the third extraordinary Sunday cabinet session.

Some political observers regarded the cabinet crisis that brought about the resignation of the foreign secretary and under-secretary as the gravest since the Great War.

With the strong backing of young Conservatives and adherents of the League of Nations, of which Mr. Eden was an ardent supporter, his resignation was believed to hold the threat of a sharp party break possibly involving the continuance of the Chamberlain government.

Diplomatic quarters were stirred to unusual activity as Britain was held to have veered to new policy toward Germany and Italy.

Mr. Eden has long opposed recognition of the Ethiopian conquest and it was believed to be one of the things in his mind when a week ago in a Birmingham speech he told young Conservatives:

"If we are to have peace in your time, it means that in any agreements we make to-day there must be no sacrifice of principles and no shirking of responsibilities merely to obtain quick results." The speech was widely acclaimed as his resignation was announced.

Italy makes recognition a condition to a wider agreement and friendship between the two countries. Mr. Eden has always taken the view that recognition of Italy's conquest is not a matter for direct settlement between Britain and Italy but for the League of Nations to decide.

Thus, for the second time, the ill-starred story of Ethiopia brings down a British foreign secretary.

Within a few weeks of the National government's victory at the polls in 1935, disclosure of the House-Laval plan to divide Ethiopia so that Italy would get a part of the then empire of Haile Selassie brought the resignation of Sir Samuel Hoare as foreign secretary. Now Mr. Eden, who succeeded Sir Samuel, also resigns.

It was Mr. Eden who stood for application of League of Nations sanctions against Italy. Both he and Lord Cranborne are pro-League. The two resignations leave the foreign office without a representative in the House of Commons.

Sunday Mr. Eden was singled out by German Chancellor Hitler for attack in his speech before the Reichstag. Prime Minister Benito Mussolini of Italy has long made Mr. Eden the target of his barbed criticism.

At one point of his speech Hitler said that if Britain was really anxious to defend herself she would energetically oppose the Bolshevization of other countries which then "become sections of the Moscow revolutionary centre."

"I know Mr. Eden does not share this view," Hitler said. "But Stalin (Joseph Stalin, Soviet dictator) does and openly admits it."

Large Contract

British Firm To Build Grain Elevators In Argentina

Stockport, Eng.—What is described as the largest contract for grain-handling machinery ever placed with a British firm has been awarded to Henry Simon, Limited, of Cheshire, Lancashire, by the Argentine government and calls for machinery valued at approximately £600,000 ($5,000,000).

The contract is a result of large-scale modernization and expansion of grain storage facilities begun by the Argentine. Plans call for the erection of 14 large grain elevators at principal ports followed by a chain of smaller storage granaries throughout the grain-growing districts.

The Simon contract covers machinery for four of the first group of six elevators which are to be in operation within three years.

Quebec By-Election

Arton Vale, Que.—Election of Dr. Philippe Adam, Union Nationale candidate, was conceded over Cyrillic Dumais, Liberal, in the Quebec provincial by-election in Bagot county. ## Two Candidates In Field

L. Legault, Liberal candidate in the contest for the seat made vacant by the death of Sir George Perley, Conservative.

Revised Customs Act

Will Be Introduced In Parliament Next Session

A revised Customs Act based on recommendations of a five-man departmental committee will be introduced in parliament next session, it was announced in the House of Commons by Hon. J. L. Halsey, revenue minister.

It will be a complete revision of the laws governing imports, duties, drawbacks and the powers of the department of national revenue to set valuations for duty purposes.

Since last May, a committee of Chairman George Selgwick, of the tariff board; Norman Robertson, department of external affairs; Hector McKinnon, commissioner of tariffs; H. D. Scully, commissioner of customs, and C. P. Blair, for many years assistant commissioner of customs, has been working on the revision.

They will circulate their recommendations to other departments interested in customs administration before reporting to the minister.

The minister made his announcement during discussion of a proposal by Gordon Ross (Lab., Moose Jaw) that a parliamentary committee be established to investigate administration of the Customs Act by officers of the department. It was talked out during the private members' time.

Mr. Ross and Malcolm McLean (Lab., Melfort), who seconded the motion, made no attack on the department of national revenue or its officials but on the system of customs administration which permitted valuations to be set which had the effect of increasing tariff rates.

When the revised act is introduced next year it will be time to discuss changing Canada's system of customs administration, the minister said.

Wheat Board Operations

No Sales of Durum Wheat Made To Italy Or U.S.

Ottawa.—The wheat board has bought no durum wheat since July 31, 1937, except for the account of the Saskatchewan government, Trade Minister Ealer told the House of Commons. He was replying to a question by E. E. Perley (Cons., Qu'Appelle).

The board since Jan. 31, 1936, has made no sales of durum wheat to Italy or the United States.

At the close of 1937 the Canadian wheat board held 6,681,000 bushels of wheat, Mr. Ealer told Robert Fair (S.C., Battle River).

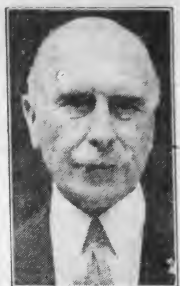

Of that amount 6,557,000 bushels were cash wheat converted from futures for seed and sold to the Saskatchewan government for spring delivery. The balance of 404,000 bushels was futures.

Only the chairman of the Canadian wheat board draws salary. The net cost of the board's operation in 1937 was $111,359.

Surprise Visit Of Queen

London.—Watchman Joe Thomas, who works night, shored peacefully, through a surprise visit Queen Elizabeth paid to his two-room flat, which she visited London areas in which slum clearance is in progress, chatted with many housewives. Most of her impromptu hostesses failed to recognize Queen Elizabeth. "I thought she was just a lady," said one.

GOES TO AFRICA

The Earl of Athlone, Queen Mary's younger brother, who has left England for the first visit of a member of the Royal Family to King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia. The Earl's trip was on an invitation which came from King Ibn Saud at a time when the Mother Country is strengthening her ties with countries of the Near East. The Earl of Athlone was Governor-General of South Africa from 1923 to 1931.

Labor Candidate Wins

Seventh By-Election Gain In Britain Since 1935

Ipswich, England.—Labor won the House of Commons by-election here for its seventh by-election gain since the general election of 1935.

R. R. Stokes, Labor, polled 27,604 votes against 24,413 for H. U. Willink, Conservative, in a straight party vote. The vacancy was caused by elevation to the peerage of Sir John Gannon, Conservative.

The result represented a swing of approximately 10,000 votes since the general election when Sir John Gannon polled 28,258 votes to 21,278 for R. F. Jackson, Labor. The respective majorities were 3,161 in recent election and 7,250 in 1935.

Ipswich was termed a "test" by-election by the opposition. The campaign was keenly waged on both sides.

Mr. Stokes said the result was due to the rising cost of living and the government's "vainglorious foreign policy."

Cattle For Britain

Scramble For Ocean Shipping Space Is Now On

Ottawa.—Lower prices for live beef steers in United States markets and relatively higher prices in the United Kingdom have resulted in a scramble for ocean shipping space by Canadian cattle interests.

The federal department of agriculture said the demand is developing beyond the capacity of the boats now plying between Canadian and British ports.

Britain Enters Protest

Moscow.—The British embassy declared Russia's insistence that Great Britain close her consulate-general, which at Leningrad was unjustified, dishonouring and detrimental to the good relations of the two countries. A formal note to the Soviet foreign office said the Russian demand would be complied with under protest.

Task Of Britain Is To Take Measures To Preserve Peace

London.—Prime Minister Chamberlain declared it was the government's duty to "make Britain so strong nobody will dare attack her and ensure that when Britain talks her voice is listened to."

The prime minister and Foreign Secretary Eden outlined to their constituents Great Britain's basic foreign policy.

Speaking at Birmingham, Mr. Chamberlain defined the government's duty as follows:

To seize every opportunity which presents itself to take positive measures designed to remove all causes of conflict, and to make Britain strong.

Mr. Eden speaking at Kenilworth, Warwickshire, warned "we cannot in this country disinter ourselves from events elsewhere in Europe and the world."

"Situated as the world is to-day," the foreign secretary added, "we cannot but be acutely conscious that events in the world, wherever they take place, may one day spread in their consequences until they affect us here in Great Britain."

"First of all," Mr. Chamberlain told his audience, "Britain's policy is to maintain peace."

"When I say maintain peace, I do not mean merely sit still and hope peace will be preserved. We should not be content merely to sit still and hope for peace, but we must do our duty to take every opportunity which presents itself to use to take active and positive steps to remove what would be the cause of another war."

"The second point is to make Britain so strong nobody will dare attack her and ensure that when Britain talks her voice is listened to."

"I am glad to say that we are making wonderful progress with our rearmament, and every day we are constructing weapons which are making us stronger and stronger."

"Already we can say that as a result of this new strength Britain is listened to in the councils of Europe where she wasn't until a few years ago."

The prime minister said that "when we have a general election we shall not consult the Socialists first as to the time for the day. We have a great deal of work yet to do before our mandate is exhausted."

The remark was in apparent answer to Labor leaders' statements a general election might be called shortly. The present parliament was elected in 1935.

Remarking that domestic prosperity was one point of the government's policy, Mr. Chamberlain said: "Even in the special (distressed) areas improvement has at last come."

National Flag

Declaration That Union Jack Is Flag Of Canada

Ottawa.—Described by Prime Minister Mackenzie King as the first official declaration that the Union Jack was the flag of Canada, a communication from Colonial Secretary L. Harcourt, dated April 12, 1931, was tabled in the House of Commons.

Mr. Harcourt wrote the then governor-general of Canada asking him to advise J. Stedman, school teacher of Ebenezer, Sask., that "the Union Jack is the national flag of Canada as of all other parts of His Majesty's dominions." Mr. Stedman had written the secretary to the king asking him what flag should be flown in Canada as the national flag.

Build More Houses

Four Hundred Thousand New Homes To Be Built In Britain

London.—So far as the British government is concerned there is to be no halt in construction of houses to banish slums, relieve overcrowding in areas regarded as certain to be slums in the near future and to provide better homes for agricultural workers. Legislation introduced in the House of Commons extends for four years the government subsidies for building and construction for these purposes. Four hundred thousand new houses are to be built in the next four and half years at a rate of 7,000 monthly.

A National Attack On Drunken Drivers Proposed At Ottawa

Ottawa.—A national attack on Bennett. The law in this respect should be universal and not left to the provinces. In England, for instance, licensees had been cancelled for life in extreme cases. The criminal code was an ideal means of making it a crime to endanger human life on the highways.

There should be drastic laws against drunk drivers, Mr. Bennett said, because the retention of license for life in extreme cases. A few penalties to drunk drivers would have a deterrent effect on others. Statistics showed that most accidents were caused by alcohol.

It was difficult to get jury convictions in manslaughter cases, Mr. Bennett said, but it should not be so difficult on charges of culpable negligence.

To confiscate a car which had killed a man would impress people with the gravity of the crime and make it abundantly clear Canada was determined to stamp it out, said Mr. Bennett.

Denton Massey (Cons., Toronto-Greenwood) said provinces granted drivers' permits but he believed the fundamental reason for accidents was that drivers were not qualified. He suggested there might be national drivers' permits because death on the highway was becoming a national problem. He suggested a national highway code with application from one end of the country to another.

"It's unthinkable that people who have not their faculties should drive cars and expose the lives of other people to peril," said Mr. Lapointe speaking of intoxicated drivers.

He doubted, however, if Mr. Churchill's proposal would be an improvement. He thought it might loose the law rather than tighten it and make it more vague.

The present provision that a charge of manslaughter might be reduced to criminal negligence with a penalty of two years in prison. Mr. Churchill would change this to "culpable negligence" and make the penalty three months. The minister said he intended to make some amendment to the present section.

An Exclusion Law Against Japanese Entry Not In Best Interests

Ottawa.—This is not the time for Canada to run the risk of offending Oriental pride and dignity by passing an exclusion law against the Japanese, Prime Minister Mackenzie King warned the House of Commons.

The prime minister made his statement before adjourning debate—a parliamentary manoeuvre tantamount to ending discussion for the session—on a bill sponsored by A. W. Neill (Ind., Comox-Alberni), which would have amounted to an immigration exclusion against the Japanese, placing them on a parity with the Chinese.

The prime minister agreed with the British Columbia member who supported the Neill bill that a serious situation existed in the Pacific coast province because of Japanese immigration with consequent unfair competition against white Canadians resulting from conflicting standards of living.

At the same time, Mr. Mackenzie King noted that immigration from Japan under the present gentleman's agreement with that country was limited to 150 Japanese a year and had averaged 81 in the past five years.

He promised an active campaign by every agency at the government's command against illegal entry of Japanese and a continuation of a check-up among the Japanese and weeded out those who had come into Canada illegally.

The prime minister agreed with Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, and other members that an immigration party should exist between Japan and China, but he believed this could be created best by an agreement between the countries.

When the United States passed its Japanese exclusion law in 1924, an acute international condition arose, Mr. Mackenzie King said. If that happened in 1924, when world conditions were comparatively peaceful, he asked what might be expected to-day, considering the Sino-Japanese conflict and the fact a section of the Japanese at home were active in fomenting discontent against the British empire.

Mr. Bennett agreed with the principle of the Neill bill but suggested it should not become operative for a year, allowing the government time to make representations to the Japanese.

It was incumbent upon Canada to take no sides in the Sino-Japanese conflict, but Mr. Bennett believed ultimately China and Japan must be placed on an immigration parity.

The situation in British Columbia was acute, Mr. Bennett said, "and it may manifest itself in very strange ways in the next few weeks." Action must be taken but, at the same time, Canada must maintain an even balance between China and Japan and take no action that might endanger its attitude of neutrality.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

THIS IS the in-between season when general activity is at a low ebb. Making a casual survey of the town on Tuesday morning, in the course of drumming up business, one couldn't help comparing the quietness of the town to being about one degree above the graveyard.

THESE QUIET periods which all towns and cities experience can be turned to good account by enterprising people. There are always avenues for thought whereby public interest might be aroused, but too many allow themselves to drop off to sleep rather than bestir themselves in stimulating interest during dull periods. It is amusing the reasons some stores give why they do not acquaint the people with what they have to offer. In the meantime the people are poring over illustrations in catalogues and figuring how they are going to spend the money from the next pay-check. It is quite natural, because the catalogue is so interesting to women, with its descriptive material and pictures visualizing the goods offered for sale. Many a small town merchant could with profit to himself follow the example of the mail-order house. Of course, it requires planning a considerable time ahead. Nothing worth-while is achieved without systematic planning. Scribbling off a few specials on a piece of wrapping paper, and expecting an avalanche of business to follow, results in disappointment. Worth-while results are achieved only by worth-while effort, not by a spasmodic burst of energy which flickers up like a flame and almost immediately dies.

Paper A Perpetual Alarm Clock

[Bowmanville Statesman]

Commenting on a recent Statesman editorial regarding Bowmanville deficiencies in business, athletic and other organizations, J. C. Kirkwood, who writes the, "Your World and Mine" feature in The Statesman, makes some interesting comment in his regularly weekly column in "Marketing" magazine published in Toronto. "Probably a clinic on most Ontario towns," Mr. Kirkwood says, "would result in numerous community shortcomings. Towns everywhere tend to sleep. Probably the local newspaper is the perpetual alarm clock. Which makes me think of this story. Two Scots met on Monday morning. One said to the other, 'Did ye hear Sandy McPherson snoring in the Kirk yesterday?' 'Ay, wasn't it awful. He wakened us all!' To which Mr. Kirkwood adds that some towns and individuals resent being awakened up to the need of the community, but that is one of the tasks of the community newspaper to constantly bring to the attention of citizens the deficiencies of their community. This is not done in the sense of being always critical, but rather in the hope that the community will awaken from the doldrums and do something about these deficiencies.

A SHORT SEASON and a merry one aptly describes the Canadians' hockey series, which closed with the game with Kimberley Dynamiters on Saturday. Efforts to have the home team entered in the Alberta play-offs having proved unavailing, nothing remains but to prepare for next season. The club will pay its bills, leaving a small balance. It entailed heavy expense to compete in a senior league schedule and were it not for the booster club contribution at the beginning of the season, the executive would have to be passing the hat or stalling on paying bills. The annual meeting will be held when the play-off season is over.

BECAUSE SENIOR hockey is over, there is no reason why the junior clubs should not continue for some weeks. With the stirring up of local interest in junior games, some good sport may yet be provided.

IN RECENT ISSUES advertisements have been published by the Federal government urging people to buy more fish. The fishing industry is of great importance to people on the Pacific and Atlantic coasts, and in these days of refrigerator cars and other facilities for bringing fish to interior points, it can be delivered practically as fresh as when caught. In eating more fish, Canadians can help an industry which gives employment to many and at the same time contribute to their own good health, for fish is necessary to make up a well-balanced diet.

COURAGE is essential to progress. That is the reason some business men out-distance others in building up while those in whom fear lurks make-up the procession of those who just get by. The man who has courage is not free from making mistakes, but he who never made a mistake never made any impression in the world. Cast a look around and you will see how true it is that the man with vision usually is a builder.

PEOPLE we enjoy meeting are those energetic individuals who see in each day opportunities to enjoy life by useful application of their brains and energy.

Illustrated Advertising

A Monthly Cut Service For Retail Stores...

whereby advertisements may be suitably illustrated is a splendid business builder. The Journal will be pleased to supply cuts for any business desiring to take advantage of this business aid. Pictures convey much to the eye that would take many, many words to describe. Illustrations certainly attract attention, as mail order house catalogues amply demonstrate. Take a leaf from the other fellow's method of securing business, and use it in your Hometown paper.

It Will PAY GOOD DIVIDENDS

MAKE USE OF EFFECTIVE ADVERTISING

Local retailers must impress on local people the fact that they have goods to sell by means of display advertising in the local newspaper. In the face of keen competition from so many outside sources, it makes it all the more necessary that aggressive effort be maintained to develop local sales, for there is much to the old proverb that the squeaky wheel gets the most grease. The store that captures the public eye and appeals to the imagination of the buyer is the store that will get the business, notwithstanding all the competition there may be, mail order or other kinds of competition.

Journal advertising space is sold on its merits as a business builder, and there is no better medium to boost local sales.

Now someone has discovered the cause of automobile accidents. It is vanity. Traffic Investigator L. W. Pierce, of Salt Lake City says:

"Virtually every driver considers himself one of the best drivers on the road, yet more than 50 per cent of them lack the ability to handle a machine capably at a speed exceeding 35 miles an hour. Most drivers overrate their ability to drive. It's a case of vanity—not the powder puff kind—behind the steering wheel."—Cranbrook Courier.

We are all aware that Mary Pickford, the Talmadge sisters, May Irwin and Marie Dressler and a host of other moving picture celebrities were born in Canada, but it is news to know that Ned Sparks also came from this side of the line. He was born in St. Thomas, Ontario. He is an outdoor man and an ardent hunter and fisherman. He is noted for his "dead-pan" type of comedy, but denies that in real life he was never known to crack a smile.—Cranbrook Courier.

MUST BE CONSISTENT

"Show me with pencil and paper," said a banker one day, "exactly what my company will get out of these advertisements." "When your boy returns from high school tonight," I replied, "ask him to show you with pencil and paper what he got out of the day in school. You will have difficulty in finding an adequate return for a day of his life and a few dollars of his money."

"Shortly he will go to college. At the end of his first year, ask him to show you what he got out of the year. You will have difficulty in seeing that his accomplishment was worth a year of his life and $2,000 of your money. Yet, I have faith to believe that if your son will apply himself faithfully for four years in college, he will get out of it that which will be well worth four years of his life and $8,000 of your money. So with advertising. Advertising is a process of education. To understand education requires a vision of the intangible.

"Advertising needs time and continuity. You cannot by any method of feeding bring a 10-year-old boy in one year to man's maturity. You cannot by any process of cramming give a boy in six months the equivalent of four years' intellectual growth in college. Nor can you by a brief series of advertisements get that thorough confidence of the public that can be won by consistent effort over a period of years." These are the words of Charles Collidge Parlin, of the Curtis Publishing Company, and he knows!

Mr. R. F. Barnes was a Lethbridge visitor during the week-end.

IT PUTS ON NO AIRS (From Shining Lines)

The country weekly is the most popular week-end visitor of the rural community, welcomed fifty-two times a year. In some families it has been a fixture for generations.

The above two sentences open a chapter dealing with the country weekly and publicity in a book by Raymond C. Mayer, "How to Do Publicity," which Oxford Tread of Harper & Brothers sent us. "It is in most instances a tried and true friend," Mr. Mayer goes on, "arriving some time on Thursday or Friday. It puts on no airs, is as comfortable as an old shoe, talks the language of the people it visits, knows them well and understandingly, tells its news of the neighborhood simply and quickly in a spirit of goodwill, does not overstay its welcome and drops out of sight until another week rolls around."

"The country weekly has been for generations and still remains the sensitive news center of towns, villages, and the widespread countryside. It is woven out of the fabric of the lives of the people who read it. It maintains close association and intimate contact with them. No other vehicle for carrying information is more personal in its relationships with its readers."—Petition Herald.

Thomas Johnson Buried at Drumheller

Former Colemanite Accorded Funeral Honors by Various Organizations

Funeral services for the late Thomas Johnson, 38, who was almost instantly killed at the Cambrian mine on the morning of Feb. 8, when he unknowingly walked into a powder blast, were held at St. Magloire's church on Sunday afternoon. Both the church and the adjoining parish hall were taxed to capacity by personal friends, acquaintances and lodge members of the late Mr. Johnson.

The service opened with the singing of "Breathe on Me Breath of God," and concluded with "Jesus Lover of My Soul" to the tune of Aberystwyth, and the "Nunc Dimittis." Mr. Alfred Holliday sang "O Love that Wilt Not Let Me Go" as a solo, and Miss Pearl Edwards presided at the organ.

Rev. W. P. Griffiths, rector of the church, who conducted the service, delivered a short address in which he referred to the late Mr. Johnson as a cheery soul, and one who had realized the nearness of his Maker during his life, which had been brought to an untimely end by the tragic circumstances of which all were familiar.

At the graveside in the Legion plot of the Drumheller cemetery, where the remains were laid to rest, the rector pronounced the last rites of the church, which were followed by the burial services of the Canadian Legion and the Royal Antediluvian Order of Buffaloes. Following a minute's silence in respect of the late Mr. Johnson in the Legion service, Mr. V. Ball sounded the Last Post.

The six pallbearers were chosen two each from the Legion, the R.A.O.B., and the Male Voice Choir, the latter of which Mr. Johnson had been conductor: Messrs E. Farmer, Thomas, D. Roberts, Rigden, Hall and H. Potter.

Surviving the late Mr. Johnson are his wife and 12-year-old son, Howard; his mother, Mrs. T. Johnson, Arrow Lakes, B. C.; one brother Fred, of East Coulee, and one sister, Mrs. A. Kay of Arrow Park.

In the last letter Mr. Johnson had written his mother he had stated that this would be his last season in the mines. He had made up his mind to quit the coal mining job and make his home in the Arrow Lakes district, in British Columbia, next spring. The tragic accident of last week has taken his life and blasted the future plans he had made for himself and his family.

Humphries' Funeral Home had charge of funeral arrangements.

Result-getting advertising is a steady pull—not an occasional jerk.

All Business Houses Here Depend On The Use Of STEAM COAL

The Mining industry here gives employment to about 800 men. It is the one industry on which all other businesses here depend. Were there no mines here, there would be no stores or business places, no local newspaper, no Coleman. The coal mines and the railroads are the sources from which Coleman people gain their livelihood, no matter if they work in the mines or in stores or offices. It is well to keep this in mind.

Use the railroads for freight or passenger traffic. Help promote the use of coal on which your employment or business depends.

To make doubly sure this week, The Journal repeats the names of the Pirates enterprising orchestra: They are Fred Blazenko, leader; Harry Thomas, Bill Cady, Bobby Ankil, Fred Beddington and Rudolf D'Amico. This added publicity for the boys is necessary to make it known far and wide that the PIRATES are open for engagements.

FIND ANCIENT CLOTH IN SWISS ALPS CAVE

Explorers in the mountain caves of the Swiss Lake Dwellers, who lived ten thousand years ago, have discovered pieces of cloth that are older than written history. Although obtaining such an early start, cloth-making remained for thousands of years one of the least progressive of industries. Up to 1500 years ago, the only known methods of spinning were by the handwheel, or by the still more primitive distaff and spindle. But ever since 1767, when the Lancashire weaver, Hargreaves, invented the Spinning Jenny, tremendous technical improvements have been taking place. Today, textile manufacturing stands as one of the most progressive and up-to-date of industries.

Two years after Hargreaves brought out his Spinning Jenny, a Derbyshire barber's apprentice by the name of Arkwright patented a roller spinner and set up a water mill to make cotton goods. Six years later, Chompton, of Bolton, combined these inventions in a machine that was called The Mule. Most of the succeeding innovations have been broadly based on the principle of the Spinning Jenny and the Roller Spinner.

The first machines set up on the North American continent were in New England in 1783. The Canadian industry got under way at a little later date, but compared to any other manufacturing industry in this country, our cotton textile business is relatively very old.

At the present time there are 106 production establishments operating in seven provinces. Although the main concentration is in Quebec and Ontario, manufacture is also carried on in New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Manitoba, Alberta and British Columbia. Over 21,000 people are directly employed, of which 36 per cent are women. Many more thousands find work in supplying materials, of Canadian origin, such as rayon yarns, starches, rubber thread, dyestuffs, bleaches, chemicals, oils, spools, tubes and packing materials. Supplying the industry with machinery, building and heating materials, and transportation services provides occupation for a further large class of wage earners. These direct and indirect employees of the cotton textile industry form a large body of consumers of Canadian farm and other products, both from the East and West.

Since 1932 the total domestic market for cotton cloth has gradually increased, and the production of the mills has also increased. Due, however, to successive duty reductions, the Canadian mills have lost ground as compared to imports, the rates on cotton goods coming into Canada now being lower than those of any other important cotton manufacturing country in the world.

STRAIGHT FROM THE SHOULDER

In Springfield, Nova Scotia, where many Colemantines came from, municipal politics are interesting. Recently the new mayor, Mr. Davidson, assumed office, and from the Springfield Record, the following interesting excerpts are taken:

On assuming his new office, Mayor Davidson thanked the electors for putting him in the chair. He said he hadn't a good enough suit for the job, but would get a new one next week. And then the new mayor launched into an attack on the local paper. "I have been branded with many things by The Record," he said, "and have never had a chance to defend myself." He accused the paper of stating he had organized a "Black Legion" and selected his committees in an underhanded manner.

C. J. Allison, Jr., speaking on behalf of The Record, demanded that the mayor produce a copy of The Record containing the statements he referred to in his address. When he failed to do so, the mayor was accused of deliberate lying and was invited to produce the document or shut up. To the amazement of the spectators he denied having made the statement although the sound of the words had barely passed away. Mr. Allison pointed out that the columns of the local paper were open and had been open at all times for the free expression of opinions and he challenged the mayor or anyone else to prove different.

Councillor Noiles wanted to know if the meeting he was turned into a debating society, and urged that town business be continued.

*Here is part of the comment Editor Allison published:

Mayor A. W. Davidson, who rose "from immigrant boy to mayor," to use his own words, in spite of the fact that he is the chief magistrate and first citizen of the town, and the one "Big Shot" we can boast of, got away to a night's poor start at the opening session of the 1938 council, which does not augur well for the progress of the town during his coming two-year term of office.

No sooner had he taken over his duties as mayor and thanked the citizens for the support accorded him, than he flew directly into an attack on The Springfield Record, accusing The Record of publishing last week, remarks about the selection of committees at "a Black Legion session" which was supposed to have been held last Thursday morning.

Accepting the opportunity to reply to this criticism, the editor demanded to be shown a copy of the paper containing the criticism or any such reference in the issue referred to. Hot words flew and we demanded the mayor either put up the evidence or shut up. He shut up.
